SAVE VALUABLE RESOURCES

All GROHE Baulines taps are equipped with the GROHE EcoJoy technology. Thanks to a flow restrictor, the water flow is limited by up to 50% and thus saves valuable resources. An aerator enriches the water with air and ensures the same voluminous experience as with a conventional tap.

EVERYTHING FITS PERFECTLY TOGETHER FOR A COMPLETELY BALANCED BATHROOM

GROHE's Bau ceramic line puts the spotlight on simplistic yet stylish design that works beautifully in modern, urban bathrooms.

With their gently rounded shapes, the Bau Ceramic offers a subtle look across all elements. From the wash basin to the toilet, the bidet and the urinal – the range perfectly matches the tap in form and function. Plus, the new addition of the Bau Ceramic Slim seat with SoftClose feature enhances the contemporary, sleek look of the bathroom and provides the perfect finishing touch.

INSTALLATION HAS NEVER BEEN SO EASY

Thanks to the practical GROHE FastFixation Plus system, installation of the new kitchen tap is particularly easy. With the pre-assembled fitting, installation is fast and completely tool-free.

PURE WATER ENJOYMENT

To add to its innovative functionality, all GROHE Bau kitchen taps are equipped with the GROHE Zero technology. Dedicated inner waterways within the mechanism of the tap ensure that the water does not come into contact with lead or nickel. Above that these inner waterways have no contact to the body material which result in a barrier between hot water and the external surface to avoid scalding on hot surfaces.
